Are you are looking for a career in ageing, disability or home and community care? This course will open doors for you to become an in-demand employee in a rewarding career.

This qualification reflects the role of workers in the community and/or residential setting who follow an individualised plan to provide person-centred support to people who may require support due to ageing, disability or some other reason.

Work involves using discretion and judgement in relation to individual support as well as taking responsibility for own outputs. Workers have a range of factual, technical and procedural knowledge, as well as some theoretical knowledge of the concepts and practices required to provide person-centred support.

Learners must successfully complete 120 hours of industry work placement to be awarded their qualification.
